

Dear Mr. Voorhees and Ms. Dobkin,

Since I wrote to you last spring I have continued my pursuit of a sociology degree, it is going well. I have finished my philosophy minor, and am almost done with my law and society concentration. As for musical pursuits, I am in the bluegrass ensemble playing mandolin.

It is about time to start thinking about what I would like to do after I graduate. I've known for a while that I would like to go into the law, and plan on going to law school after taking a year off to study for the LSAT. I am originally from northern Virginia, but since coming to Kenyon I have spent my summers in New Orleans working at a bar and saving money. I fell in love with the city, and hope to go to law school at Tulane. This summer I hope to be working with the Orleans Public Defenders office doing a summer internship. After finishing law school I want to work as a public defender, and I think getting some experience this summer will be good for me. Unfortunately, those internships are unpaid so I will likely have to keep working at the bar this summer.

Thank you again for your generosity, I would not be at Kenyon without you. I have loved my time here and all the friends I have made. It is hard to believe that I am almost done with my junior year.

Best,
Ian Krein
